REPORTING EXERCISES.

I. WRITING IN POSITION.

Handwritten musical notation on a single page, featuring various notes, rests, and clefs. The notation is written in a cursive, handwritten style, likely representing a musical score. The page is numbered '2' in the top right corner. The notation includes various note values, rests, and clefs, suggesting a complex musical composition. The handwriting is fluid and expressive, with some notes and rests written in a more stylized manner. The overall appearance is that of a personal or working manuscript.

II. FIGURES, ETC.

Handwritten musical notation on a page, featuring various notes, rests, and bar lines. The notation is dense and includes several numerical annotations (e.g., 8, 35, 2,7, 91, 476, 872, 3, 4, 8, 88, 240, 197, 52, 1,5, 50, 35, 30, 12, 650, 2,325, 4,870, 10,120, 9, 5,950) interspersed with the musical symbols.

Handwritten musical notation on a page with 15 staves. The notation is a form of musical shorthand using various symbols like curves, lines, and dots. The symbols are arranged in a way that suggests a sequence of notes or rests, with some symbols resembling modern musical notation (e.g., eighth notes, sixteenth notes) and others being more abstract. The notation is written in black ink on a white background.

Handwritten musical notation on a five-line staff. The notation includes various rhythmic values (eighth, sixteenth, and thirty-second notes), rests, and accidentals (sharps, flats, and naturals). The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of 18th-century musical manuscripts.

Handwritten musical notation on a single staff, featuring various notes, rests, and bar lines. The notation is dense and appears to be a complex piece of music, possibly a score for a single instrument or voice. The notes are written in a cursive style, and the bar lines are clearly marked. The overall appearance is that of a personal manuscript or a working draft.
